Adding Duplicating Printers on Your PC
Adding Duplicating Printers for Windows XP. Windows 7 instructions on page 5.

- 1) Open Printers and Faxes window:

- 2) Double-click on Add Printer

- 3) Click Next
Adding Duplicating Printers

• 4) Select A network printer…. and click Next

!A network printer, or a printer attached to another computer

• 5) Select Connect to this printer …

!Connect to this printer

• 6) In the Name box insert either:
  • `\isr-print\duplicating` for regular printing, or
  • `\isr-print\DupcolorC550` for color printing.

!Add Printer Wizard

• 7) Click Next
Adding the New Duplicating Printer

- 7) Click No as default printer, click Next.

- 8) Click Finish.

- 9) Open the Printers and Fax window again and check for correct install.
Adding Duplicating Printers for Windows 7

• 1) Open the Devices and Printers window.

• 2) Click Add a printer.

• 3) Click Add a network, wireless or Bluetooth printer.
Adding Duplicating Printers for Windows 7 continued

- 4) Click The printer that I want isn’t listed.

- 5) Click Next
Adding Duplicating Printers for Windows 7 continued

- 6) Click on the Name column to sort by name.

- 7) Scroll down the list to Dup_Color or Duplicating

- 8) For Windows 7-64 bit computers, select ISR-PRINT64 entry as highlighted above. For Windows 7-32 bit, select the isr-print entry.
Adding Duplicating Printers for Windows 7 continued

- 9) Windows will now install the driver. Depending on your machine, you may get a warning box like the one below. Click on Install driver. Windows 7 users will also be prompted for their ISR username/password.

- 10) When the driver is installed, click Next.

- 11) At the next screen make sure to un-select the checkbox net to Set as the default printer and Click Finish.